Upcoming External Award Opportunities for Indiana University Graduate Students and/or Post-Doctoral Students.

Monday, September 5, 2016 (campus deadline) and Tuesday, October 11 by 5pm EST (national deadline): Fulbright U.S. Student Program (<http://us.fulbrightonline.org/about/fulbright-us-student-program>)

- For graduate Fulbright applicants, there is a Canvas site that will be updated with more information and used for communication about the process. To be added to the Canvas site or for other questions regarding the Fulbright, students should contact the Graduate Fellowships & Awards Coordinator at ugsawrd@indiana.edu.
- If students submit the Statement of Grant Purpose and the Personal Statement via Canvas by the 9/5 campus deadline, every effort will be made to set up a meeting with a faculty reviewer who will provide valuable feedback about the application. While we highly encourage students to take advantage of this opportunity, it is not required, and students may still apply by the national deadline without going through this process.

Wednesday, October 26th: The Mellon/ACLS Dissertation Completion Fellowship (<https://www.acls.org/programs/dcf/>)

Tuesday, November 1st: Paul & Daisy Soros Fellowships for New Americans (www.pdsoros.org)

Thursday, December 1st: Big 10 Academic Alliance Smithsonian Institution Fellowship (<https://www.btaa.org/students/smithsonian-fellowship>)

Tuesday, January 31st, 2017: Boren Fellowships for Graduate Students (http://www.borenawards.org/apply_now.html)

Our award-winning consultants in the GradGrants Center offer one-on-one proposal drafting advising sessions for any external (i.e., non-IU) funding opportunities. Please direct students to gradgrnt@indiana.edu for assistance.

Thank you very much for helping spread the word about these opportunities! If you or your students have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact me at ugsawrd@indiana.edu.
